DESCRIPTION

Banks-Martin may be a new name in boat-building but the companys two directors have a background in iconic British boat brands, such as Sealine. Now based in Kidderminster, the business is looking to build on the traditions of the past while introducing a higher standard of craft to the inland industry..

At first glance the boat appears much bigger than its just-under 30ft length would suggest,, it offers seating for 10, berths as an option for two, toilet, washbasin, deck shower, hot & cold water, Cockpit Teak and flat direct access from the bathing platform to the cockpit

The 9 Henley has a low-wash semi-displacement hull, unlike many comparative cruisers that have a planing hull, which isnt ideal for low-speed cruising

Included as standard is a 38 Hp Diesel inboard, Battery charger, Optional 2 berth cabin layout

Price includes delivery afloat at any Tingdene Marina
